Spring Bloom Free Screensaver Free Download

Spring Bloom is a free screensaver for Windows users which displays a collection of high quality images and sounds of flowers of spring, all animated together for a relaxing effect. If you enjoy watching natural beauty and want to give your desktop a little boost, this screensaver might be a good choice. The images are of high quality, displaying vibrant colors that are quite rare to find in a screensaver. Unlike most screensavers that are sometimes too slow or too fast to be usable, Spring Bloom Free Screensaver has a built-in delay that adds a nice touch to the presentation. Additionally, Spring Bloom Screensaver is a standalone app, so you can easily remove it from the system without affecting other programs. This view is automatically generated from a collection of images taken from every corner of the Earth's surface. The latter ones are images taken from our satellites, with a precise and exact geocoding based on the location of the satellite (pixel size, azimuth and elevation angles). A special algorithm enables us to stitch together these images without any geometric distortion or perspective distortion. And the end result is a magnificent high quality 360° panoramic image.
